Enjoy retirement living to the full without paying in full

With Shared Ownership you can now buy part of one of our pre-loved properties and pay rent on the rest. So you can move in and enjoy the benefits of the McCarthy Stone lifestyle without committing to outright purchase. This also means you can manage your finances to help with future needs.

McCarthy Stone Shared Ownership is run in conjunction with Homes England and we work closely with them to provide this opportunity. With this scheme you can purchase up to 75% of the full property value, and if you own 75% there's no rent to pay on the rest.

Of course, there are qualification criteria, and our resales team can help you through your application every step of the way.

Frequently asked questions about Shared Ownership

What is Shared Ownership and who are Homes England?

Shared Ownership is when you buy part of your property and rent the rest. It enables customers to enjoy a McCarthy Stone property without committing to purchase 100% of the property value. Homes England is the government-approved partner for Shared Ownership schemes. They provide grant funding and regulate rental charges and fees applicable to the homes within this scheme.

Is Shared Ownership available at all your locations?

No, Shared Ownership is available on selected properties only and exclusions do apply. Speak to a Resales Property Consultant to find out more.

Who will own the share of the property I don't buy?

McCarthy & Stone (Shared Ownership) Limited will be your landlord and you will pay rent to them on the unpurchased share of the property (unless 75% has been purchased and no rent is payable).

Do I need financial advice?

Before entering into the Shared Ownership agreement, we recommend that you obtain independent financial advice so you know what your new home will cost and that you will be able to afford it.

Will a financial review be needed?

if you purchase a Shared Ownership property via our resales team, we require you to have a financial assessment with an Independent Advisor to make sure you can afford the ongoing costs both today and if your circumstances change. We will put you in contact with an advisor who has experience of Shared Ownership schemes and can assess your eligibility.

What will it cost upfront?

You should plan for some one-off costs associated with your purchase, including, but not limited to the following:

- Solicitors Fees and disbursements
- Stamp Duty Land Tax (SDLT) in England. Your solicitor will be able to tell you if the tax applies and how much it will be
- Estate Agent fees if selling a current property

What ongoing costs do I need to consider?

You should plan for the following costs for your move into your new apartment:

- Rent for the share you haven't bought, if applicable
- Service Charge
- Other household costs that you will organise yourself, including council tax, utility bills, TV licence, contents insurance etc.

Can I purchase a parking space?

Car parking spaces are available with some properties. Please ask the Resales Property Consultant for more details.

What percentage of the property do I have to purchase?

You must purchase at least the share owned by the current owner. If you wish to increase your share at the same time as legal completion of the resale, up to the maximum percentage you can afford (known as staircasing) or 75% ownership of the property, you will enter into a second legal transaction that will complete straight after the resale legal transaction has completed (known as back to back staircasing).

Please speak to your solicitor regarding costs for dealing with the staircasing transaction. If you are eligible and wish to back to back staircase, you will need an independent RICS desktop valuation that is valid at the point of offering on the property. The cost for this valuation is to be paid for by the buyer. Our OPSO team will arrange the independent RICS valuer to determine the additional premium required to back to back staircase to the proposed percentage share.

How much rent will I have to pay and how will that change over time with rent reviews?

When you purchase 75% of the value of the property, the rent is set at 0% and will not change over time. If you purchase less than 75% of the value of the property, rent is applicable and the initial rent is set at the point of purchase at 2.75% of the unpurchased share. The maximum annual rent increase shall be linked to an increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) in the preceding 12 month period, plus 0.5%. In the event that CPI does not increase in the period, then your rent will increase by just 0.5%.

Can I sell my Shared Ownership property?

Yes, you are free to sell the share you own to another eligible person at any stage. The property must be sold as a Shared Ownership property and any incoming purchaser must fulfil the eligibility criteria. Our resales team will be able to help you sell your property.

What happens when I come to sell?

If you decide to sell, an independent valuation will need to be carried out, to set the selling price based on open market value. As with sales of wholly-owned apartments, on resale of a Shared Ownership apartment a contingency fee as a percentage of the total resale price is held in the development's reserve or sinking fund.

What happens if my financial circumstances change and I can no longer afford to pay the rent (for example, if one of a couple passes away)?

It's important that the housing decision you take is suitable for your personal and financial circumstances, which is why we carry out an initial affordability check and require you to have a financial assessment. We want you to enjoy your new home and not have worries over affordability. Your rent is a contractual agreement between you and the Landlord. If you do fall behind with your payments, you'll be contacted to arrange payment.

What does the £500 essential repairs include?

This covers items in the home that supply water and electricity such as basins, baths, toilets and also cables, but not fixtures, or appliances such as ovens or washing machines. Pipes and drainage items for heating and hot water are also included.

What type of housing is Shared Ownership?

Shared Ownership is designed to be affordable and is a form of social housing that is regulated by the Regulator of Social Housing.

Please seek independent legal advice before buying an apartment under shared ownership. Not available in conjunction with any other offer or promotion unless expressly waived by McCarthy Stone at its sole discretion. Written details available upon request.
